Didsbury gets a green revolution

By Janice Harrington

The Town of Didsbury is turning green thanks to two resolutions passed by town council last week.

Council passed the resolutions to create an environment advisory board and to work on an agreement with the Didsbury Lion's Club for a large scale recycling project.

The resolutions came after prompting by local residents and the media for action to be taken to ensure the continued ecological integrity of the town.

Town Councillor Marjorie Malinowski was pleased to see the two proposals presented to council be passed.

"As a council we really appreciate the effort you have put into this," she said. "I think we are going to get alot of support from the community to run both projects. The response has been overwhelming already."

Creation of the Town of Didsbury Environmental Advisory will begin officially with the passing of a bylaw currently being drafted. Once in place, the bylaw will allow for the establishment of a committee which will work with the town council to create environmentally friendly policies and practices. The committee will also work to help facilitate the set up of the proposed recycling project presented by the Lions club.

Under the proposal for this project, researched by members of the club, the town and the Lion's would work together to start and operate a recycling facility for paper, plastic and glass.

Lion's club member Russ Croft said his organization is still debating the extent of their involvement in the project but he is confident they will vote to administer the operations in co-operation with the town.

"We have worked for a long time on this and we were just waiting for the comments from town council. [Now that we have them] the Lion's will make a final decision about getting involved in the project," he said. "The main stumbling block is the amount of labor needed, but I believe we have a good solution so that the club won't be constantly working."

An agreement with the town for the project would see the set up of a large recycling depot for receiving, sorting and preparing paper, glass and plastics to help reduce the amount of waste currently being dumped into the Didsbury landfill site. Didsbury currently has no facilities for recycling beyond the bottle depot and estimates show the current land fill site will be full (at the present rate of waste dumping) within the next 2 years.

Money to house and equip the depot is expected to come from provincial or federal government grants.

Negotiations over the exact content of the agreement between the town and the Lion's club is expected to begin shortly.

Opening ceremonies

Didsbury's newest business, the Didsbury Funeral Chapel, opened it's doors last Friday with an official ribbon cutting ceremony and open house. Cutting the ribbon for owners Earl & Millie Hoffos (left) is Deputy Mayor Doug Sharpe. The funeral chapel offers all the arrangements that need to be met when a loved one dies. See the story inside.

Friends of ours were on their way home after having had a minor altercation with one of their relatives. They had been discussing some of said relatives' less endearing qualities and words like, opinionated, contrary, narrow minded and mulish filled the car. Actually those were some of the nicer words. As their irritation dissipated, the husband began feeling a bit guilty and suggested that from now on, they, as a couple, would not say anything about anybody that wasn't "nice." They would follow the time honored rule, "If you can't say anything nice, don't say anything at all." His wife agreed to this program, patted her thoughtful, sweet husband on the knee and returned his gentle smile. Their hearts were filled with the milk of human kindness, goodness and mercy followed the car. They tried to think of something nice to say. Neither of them spoke. Neither of them spoke for a long, long time.

I know that it is not exactly admirable to say mean things about people and each of us would like to believe that no one ever says mean things about us. But we do it, they do it, it is a means of expressing aggression without violence and if we are going to be honest we have to admit that there is something satisfying and memorable in a good, well aimed insult. In the interest of decency and good sportsmanship, certain ground rules should be observed. Don't pick on people for things they can't control, physical or mental abnormalities and weaknesses, ethnic, religious and cultural differences, unfortunate family situations. There are probably other equally sensitive areas and if your comment seems more cruel than honest you are probably outside the bounds of good taste. Most important, an insult must be amusing. Otherwise it is simply mean and is without justification.

History has recorded some examples of wonderful insults and not surprisingly many of them are political. Winston Churchill was a master of the art and I could finish this whole column just quoting him. He said of Stanley Baldwin, who was then P.M. of Great Britain, "He occasionally stumbled over the truth, but hastily picked himself up and hurried on as if nothing had happened." When someone told him that another P.M. Clement Attlee was a modest man, Churchill agreed saying, "Absolutely true—but then he does have a lot to be modest about." He also called Attlee, "a sheep in sheep's clothing." My favorite Churchillian insult involves an exchange at Blenheim Palace in 1912. Lady Astor: "If you were my husband I'd poison your coffee." Churchill: "If you were my wife I'd drink it."

I tried to find some really gifted insults from Canadian Prime Ministers but most of their recorded quotes lean toward the pompous and statesmanlike. I found some neat insults directed toward Canadian P.M.s. In 1969 Irving Layton said, "In Pierre Elliott Trudeau, Canada has at last produced a political leader worthy of assassination." And in 1965 John F. Kennedy said of John Diefenbaker, "I couldn't have called him an s.o.b., I didn't know he was one—at that time." Insults directed toward our present P.M. are too numerous to mention.

Don Rickles and Groucho Mark made careers out of insults, neither of them are exactly loveable persons but they have made their place in history. Groucho commenting on a book, "from the moment I picked it up until I laid it down, I was convulsed with laughter. Someday I intend reading it." And, "I didn't like the play but then I saw it under adverse conditions, the curtain was up."

Theatre critics are in a class by themselves and some of the most scathing insults ever have been in the name of art. Dorothy Parker was especially cutting and these 2 are hers. "Go to the Martin Beck Theatre and watch Katharine Hepburn run the gamut of emotions from A to B." "The House Beautiful is the Play Lousy." Canadian critics can be nasty too. Nathan Cohen, "There are 3 things wrong with Love In Albania, The play, the direction and the casting."

It is quite possible to say mean things about someone and still love them and it's possible to offer an insult to someone whom you really respect and admire. I guess it is also possible to, "not say anything unless you can say something nice." But I don't think I can do it and if many of us did we would lose a lot in color and entertainment.

Town Council notes

By Janice Harrington

The issue over placement of the downtown gazebo has finally been decided.

The gazebo, planned for a park to go in the lot on the north side of the Eldon Foote Hall, will be placed in the middle of the park rather than right beside the hall as had originally been planned by town council.

Council was concerned placing the gazebo in the centre of the park would reduce the amount of parking available in the area. Council said the Didsbury Chamber of Commerce had asked that the lot produce as many parking stalls as possible.

But the Downtown Revitalization committee drew up plans showing both placement possibilities and determined that the middle placing would only cause the loss of about 2 stalls. The Chamber agreed to go with the park plan with the gazebo in the centre at their last meeting.

Development of the park is expected to begin soon.

The Didsbury oil dump is operating again.

The dump, opened in 1983, had been closed due to the cost of having the used motor oil hauled away from the site. Town Administrator Mike Storey said Hub Oil had been charging 25 cents per litre to haul the oil away for recycling.

But a new company out of Red Deer has been contracted to collect the oil and will not be charging the town anything for the service. As a result, Storey said, the dump will now be open 24 hours a day for those who would like to use the environmentally friendly method of disposal.

Oil, which is taken from cars or other motors, usually ends up in landfill sites or flushed into the water system. Recycling of the product has become more and more popular.

The dump is located on 19th Street just north of 22nd Avenue (north of the bottle depot). Everyone is welcome to use the dump, but the town asks that containers used to transport the oil not be left behind.

A letter of intent has been signed and sent to Master Pools of Calgary outlining an agreement to enter into negotiations for the construction of the Didsbury indoor swimming pool facility.

Town Administrator Mike Storey said the letter allows the company to prepare some ground work before negotiations can begin.

Negotiations for the construction of the pool, estimated to cost $1.5 million, will begin as soon as the town receives approval from the Local Authorities Board for a borrowing bylaw and approval from the provincial Minister of Transportation over the needed road closures.

Construction of the pool is expected to begin later this summer. Original construction time, as estimated by Master Pools, is 6 months.

Reclamation of the old Didsbury landfill site is expected to begin this week.

Alberta Environment will tackle the project on the land which recently reverted back to the town due to non-payment of taxes by the former owner.

Alberta Environment will cover the estimated $55,000 cost for the project under the condition that any profits made from the sale of the land within the next 10 years go to help repay the province.

Regimental ball held

By Janice Harrington

The first ever Didsbury RCMP Regimental Ball was held this weekend with close to sold out attendance.

Constable Ted McCreary, Ball organizer and Master of Ceremonies said the Didsbury detachment was extremely pleased with the reception the event received by town residents.

"It probably went beyond our expectations in terms of success," he said. "It has definitely encouraged us to hold another one."

The regimental ball, the first ever in Didsbury, was planned by the detachment to celebrate their 25th anniversary in the Town of Didsbury. All former members and auxiliary members were invited to attend.

McCreary said RCMP from all across the province as well as B.C. attended the ball.

"There was definitely a lot of red there," he said (referring to the RCMP dress uniform members were wearing). "We had members there from Vermilion, Edmonton, Olds, Lethbridge, Peace River, just all over the province. Many of them were former members but we really had good representation from the detachments."

The evening, which started out with a dinner catered by the Olds College, was highlighted by guest speaker Gordon Towers, Alberta's Lieutenant-Governor. The program followed a traditional regimental ball format, with toasts to the Queen and to the force.

Along with introducing the former, present and auxiliary members to the guests, presentations of 10 year service bars were also made to Auxiliary Constable Albert Ohlauer and Auxiliary Constable Rollee Ayers. A plaque for 25 years of service was given to long-time Justice of the Peace George McDonald on behalf of the detachment and the town.

The evening was topped off by a dance by Calgary's Eric Friedenbergh Band.

Profits from the sale of the 265 tickets sold for the night will be going to a local community group. No final decisions or numbers were available at press time.

"It was a thoroughly enjoyable evening," said McCreary. "There were a few stories told and a few jokes. We even had some people say that we should hold these every three months. I don't think we will even hold one every year, but we will definitely be holding another one before the next 25 years are up."

Just celebration

The Didsbury RCMP Regimental Ball was held Saturday at the Didsbury Memorial Arena. Guest speaker for the evening was Alberta's Lieutenant Governor Gordon Towers.

Didsbury funeral home opens

By Janice Harrington

Didsbury's newest business recently celebrated its grand opening with a ribbon cutting ceremony, filling a void in Didsbury services.

The Didsbury Funeral Chapel opened its doors last Friday after an official ribbon cutting ceremony performed by Deputy Mayor Doug Sharpe. The opening ended three months of anticipation for owners Earl and Millie Hoffos who moved from Bonnyville to open the funeral business.

"We just thought this town was the right size for this kind of business," said Earl Hoffos. "And Didsbury didn't have a funeral chapel so we thought this would be the perfect place."

Their newly opened business, located on 20th Avenue beside Kidsbury Daycare, includes everything for arranging funeral services for loved ones recently passed away or for those who like to be prepared. An office for planning services and display area for caskets are part of the chapel, as well as a small chapel for those who do not wish the service to be held in a church.

Earl, a mortician, also has a small work area for preparing the body.

"We are really excited about this and we have had a really good response from the people of Didsbury so far," said Earl. "We are really looking forward to doing business in this town."

Please call

By Janice Harrington

This is an issue I know you have all heard before. I know my predecessor struggled with the same problem. In fact, as I was flipping through some of The Didsbury Review editions from last June, I ran across a plea in the very same vein as this is made. Talk about irony.

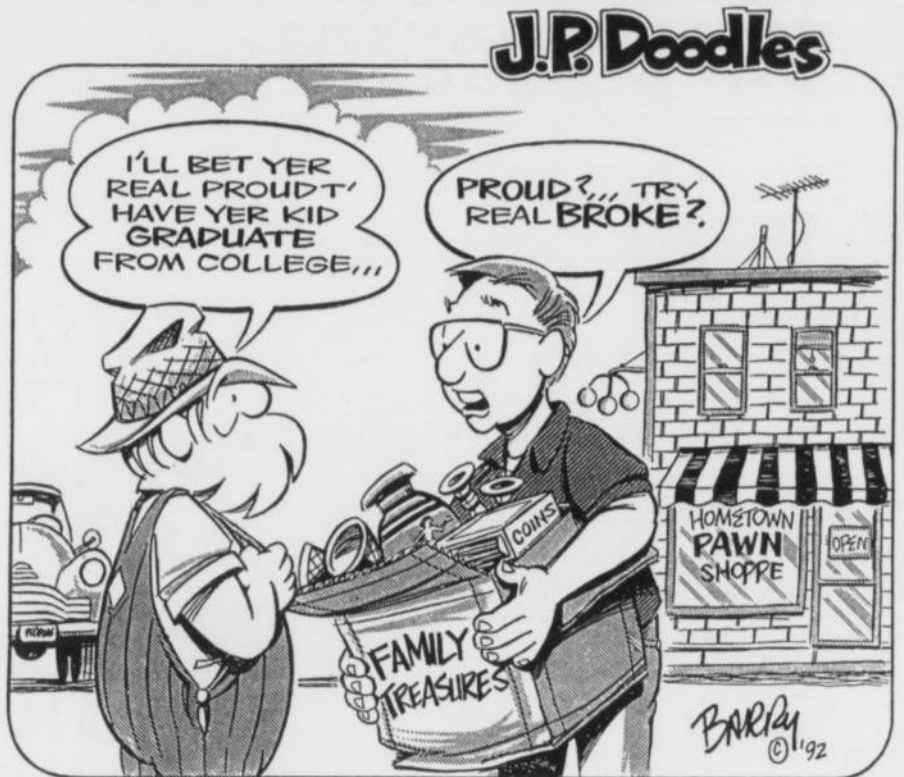

You see, as the editor of your local newspaper, it is my job to cover the issues which are important to you. That includes every thing from politics to crime to local teas. The problem is that I am not omniscient. I can't know about the activities, events or newstories you have coming up unless you let me know about them.

There is always so much going on in this area. Didsbury and the surrounding county is chock full of interesting people and events. In fact, all this newsworthy information keeps me very busy, but I hate to miss anything, especially if you think it should be in the paper. So my plea is for you to call. I like to hear from you (even if you don't have an event up coming—I like to get your comments). If you call me about a week before an event, I will make sure that it gets covered somehow. I have this little calendar on my desk that I love to fill with black writing. Or, if you see an amusing or interesting scene you think would make a great picture for the paper, please call. You see, I am only one person and I just can't get to all the places and hear about all the news like all of you can. So your help is most certainly appreciated. It helps make my job just a little bit easier and it helps to make our paper the best it can be.

Unfortunately it would seem the fuss over health care costs has caused some health care workers to take it out on innocent patients. While playing in a baseball tournament in Olds this weekend, a friend of mine took a header and scraped herself up pretty badly. Concerned about the gravel buried in her leg, as well as the threat of infection, we sent her off to the emergency room. The reception she received was not impressive.

We all have to remember that health care costs are increasing, but for a hospital employee to chastise a patient who stumbles into the emergency ward when there should be nothing but concern and attentive care given, I have nothing but contempt. Complaining to a patient about how much they are costing the system, well that's just simply churlish. Maybe this particular health care worker should consider how much the system must pay for salaries as unions continually scrap for higher and higher wages.

That's my beef for the day.

Recall policy adopted

Dear Editor:

The change that Alberta's political system would undergo upon the election of an Alberta Liberal government has become even more profound as a result of recent policies adopted at our convention.

We now favour recall, through which voters could force a new election if their MLA was not performing to their expectations or representing their wishes. Details—such as how many signatures would be required on a recall petition and whether voters who move into a riding after an election would be eligible to sign—are now being worked upon by our party executive.

Alberta Liberal delegates also agreed with the principle of fixed election dates as a method of frustrating the government in power from playing politics, often involving great waste of taxpayers' money, through manipulation of election timing. As a municipal politician, I experienced fixed election dates, and I am convinced the system will work well at the provincial level.

These new directions have been added to what is already the most far-reaching set of proposals ever to be proposed for a Canadian provincial government.

Our plan is detailed, but one of its central foundations is a belief in the 'free vote.' MLAs must more accurately reflect the views of the people who elect them, rather than acting as 'trained seals' to do their party's bidding. This will bring people closer back to the process of governing themselves, and it will force MLAs to work harder to represent their electorate.

Another prime part of our plan rests upon our belief that well-informed citizens make for better government. We advocate a sweeping freedom of information policy, so that all citizens and their organizations are operating from the same factual base in their search for solutions.

We believe in a less negatively partisan system, one where the quality of an idea should be more important than its political source. Opposition parties should be respected, so we will allow their motions and bills to actually come to a vote. Who says only the government has good ideas?

With the recent public concern over MLA incomes and perks, your readers will also be interested in knowing that our delegates passed a motion calling for a 10% cut in MLA salaries. The motion called as well for a cleanup of MLA pensions to bring them back into line.

The support that the Alberta Liberal Party's 50 nominated candidates are experiencing at the doors is a sign to me that the message of parliamentary and fiscal reform that we have advocated for three years now is growing quickly amongst Albertans.

People want political change. They want a better, fairer, more efficient system. And no other political party provides them with such a clear plan for meaningful change.

Sincerely yours,
Laurence Decore, MLA
Leader, Alberta Liberal Opposition

Hiring legislation discriminatory

Dear Editor:

Alberta's Solicitor General Steve West is to be commended for his recent stand against the discriminatory hiring practices of our federal government.

Young males in Canada today have an unemployment rate that is not only higher than any female category but double the national average. The impact of such high unemployment is reflected in the suicide rate for young males that has reached a staggering level seven times that of young females.

The crisis young males are facing is a direct result of discriminatory legislation like the Employment Equity Act. This Act was introduced by the federal PC party to further the goals of special interest groups and not to promote equal opportunity. Such an incredible abuse of power can not be tolerated in a fair and just society.

The courageous position taken by Alberta's Solicitor

General will clearly place him at odds with the three mainline parties who are sacrificing the rights and well being of our innocent children to promote a socialist ideology. However, since the Reform Party of Canada is on record as opposing discriminatory hiring practices, Alberta's Solicitor General has a powerful ally that the federal PC party can no longer ignore.

MP's column

Louise Feltham
Wild Rose MP
MEN AND WOMEN--AND ECONOMIC POWER

Throughout most of recorded history men and women both contributed to the food supply and both sexes enjoyed equal economic power.

As society became specialized, an economic gap occurred. By the beginning of the 20th century, the only women tolerated in the paid labour market were the unmarried and the very poor.

The United Nations reported, "Women constitute 1/2 of the world's population, perform nearly 2/3 of its work hours, receive 1/10 of the world's income and own less than 1/100 of the world's property."

Canadian data is not encouraging. When the United Nations Human Development Index includes factors for women, Canada falls from first to eighth place. The National Council of Welfare found Canadian women are vulnerable to poverty for reasons almost totally beyond their control. The report says, "The reality is that as women increase their work outside the home to improve their position... even stronger forces are at work to counter their gains."

Marriage continues to offer women the best protection against poverty, but this protection all too often disappears when a relationship breaks down or when a husband dies. Of the women who marry, only one in six is married for life. The other five either separate, or divorce, or are widowed. What it all adds up to is guaranteed poverty for a large number of Canadian women at some point in their lives.

Single-parent mothers are especially prone to poverty. More than half of the single-parent mothers and their children live in poverty. It is sad to note that, of the poor, the single-parent mothers are among the poorest with an average family income of only 61% of the poverty line.

Envirocon Research Group Ltd. conducted several national surveys recently. Results of the surveys indicate that there is a big difference between men and women in the urgency with which they see issues relating to poverty and income equality. Women are saying, "We have come a long way but there are many problems left to deal with."

Men, according to the recent surveys, do not see the urgency of the issues that remain. If this is so, there is more than an economic gap between men and women--there is a comprehension gap as well.

Women have to take a hard look at the facts. The only way any woman can have a degree of certainty that she will remain out of poverty is to accept the personal responsibility to provide economically for herself and any dependent children she has. As one woman who was widowed twice said, "We all have to be ready to adjust to changes--the one thing certain about life is that change is inevitable."

The other fact is, if men do not see the economic gap as a problem they will not be interested in making policy decisions to end it.

Women do see a problem and we must work together to correct it.

Ample grants announced

Under the Alberta Local Employment Transfer program for 1992/93, the Honourable Roy Brassard, M.L.A. for Olds-Didsbury Constituency announced the following:

County of Mountain View No. 17 - part of - $704,216;
County of Red Deer No. 23 - part of - $1,102,447;
I.D. No. 8 - part of - $17,500;
M.D. of Bighorn No. 8 - part of - $107,542;
M.D. of Clearwater No. 99 - part of - $780,454;
M.D. of Rocky View No. 44 - part of - $1,385,807;
Town of Carstairs - $121,807;

Town of Crossfield - $117,290;
Town of Didsbury - 261,921;
Town of Olds - $414,715;
Town of Sundre - $145,820;
Village of Cremona - 30,908.

Alberta Municipal Affairs Minister R.S. (Dick) Fowler, Q.C., confirmed that 1992/93 accelerated AMPLE payments to municipalities would total $200 million. "Overall, municipalities will receive more than last year. We recognize the valuable part these funds will play in providing municipal services and facilities at the discretion of the individual municipalities. The grant increase demonstrates our commitment to continue supporting our municipal partners, albeit while operating under the realities of fiscal restraint."

With this payment, the Alberta Municipal Partnership for Local Employment (AMPLE) program will be satisfied. The AMPLE program which was created in 1987 was intended to help municipalities generate local employment. The accelerated AMPLE payment provides $79.25 in one-time per capita grants to municipalities with a minimum grant of $17,500 for small jurisdictions.

When Canadians work together we can take on the world and win.

To succeed in today's world, Canadians must be able to compete because our jobs directly depend on it. Preparing ourselves through training will help us to compete and secure the prosperity we want for ourselves and our children.

We have to invest in ourselves and be a country that says... yes we can.

COREL SYSTEMS CORP., OTTAWA

This Ontario company has captured 50% of the world market with CorelDraw, a software graphics program for IBM and compatibles. It exports 90% of its products to Europe and the U.S. and attributes Free Trade to the fact that it can operate so successfully from Canada, using Canadian talent and initiative.

Yes we can. We've got the proof.

Canadians are succeeding every day. Many individual and business successes exist... with real benefits for individuals, the communities they live in and for Canadian industry.

Hundreds of Canadian companies are achieving remarkable international success. They're creating jobs, developing new skills and opportunities for thousands of Canadians and creating markets around the world for Canadian products.

COMMUNITY TALKS

The Prosperity Initiative's Steering Group is developing a consensus-based plan of action to be presented to Canadians in September. Canadians told us that they wanted to participate in developing this plan of action. We listened...

Through a series of "Community Talks", thousands of people in 186 communities across Canada have contributed their ideas. They talked about how to address the challenges and opportunities facing us all in the areas of competitiveness and learning. They talked about how to maintain our standard of living and secure our economic future. They concluded that all of us have to play a part... and the government is listening.

Yes we can. We've got the ability to build on our successes.

We have a history of working in co-operation with others for world-class achievements in peacekeeping, medicine and space exploration. Now, with business, labour, governments, academic and social groups working together, we can achieve prosperity through international competitiveness. But there is one more critical factor: Canada's ultimate potential depends on the commitment of individual Canadians to being the best.

FREEWILL SAUNDERS, BRITISH COLUMBIA

"I had to make a decision to change careers. I chose to go into computer programming and part of my course was on-the-job training at BC Tel where I now work as a programmer analyst. Training really opened up a promising future for me in a fascinating industry!"

Yes we can. We've got the people.

It's time to focus our energies on our most important economic challenge yet... and prepare ourselves for a more prosperous future.

Yes, we can!

Creative courses offered for summer

This summer, something new has been added to Olds' summer activities for young people. Children and teens who want to explore their own creativity should be able to find classes that interest them at the Creative Arts Camp being offered in July and August.

There are classes for ages 4 to 18. Classes range from 40 minutes to 3 hour sessions, depending on the age and course content. A variety of creative activities are being offered with fees ranging from $10.00 to $100.00 depending on the length of the session.

Several sessions in drama and acting are available. Movement, mime and improvisation will be emphasized and plays will be learned and presented in the acting classes. Speech Arts classes will teach articulation, breathing, expressive use of the voice as well as an appreciation of good literature.

Creative dance classes are open to ages 6 to 16. Warm-up exercises, as well as creative dances will be learned in a two-week course. Although dance experience is preferred, anyone may register.

One-session classes are offered in action songs for ages 5 to 8, theatre makeup for ages 11 to adult and art for ages 11 to 16. Private and semi-private lessons are also available in solo scenes, creative dance, story telling and musical theatre solos.

Instructors are Marlene Skeet, Tracie Skeet and Marliss Weber. They are trained and experienced in teaching and performing in their areas of expertise. Marliss and Tracie have been recipients of numerous scholarships and both have placed first or second in their respective fields at the Alberta Provincial Music Festivals. Marlene will be instructing drama, acting, singing and art classes. Marliss will be instructing speech arts, story telling and solo scenes. Tracie will be instructing creative dance, makeup, musical theatre solos and solo scenes.

There will be three performances open to the public. Tickets can be purchased at the time of registration or at the door. Location of performances will be announced at a later date. Tracie will present an evening of skits, mime and musical theatre, Marliss will offer a morning story-telling presentation and Marlene and Tracie will present an Appreciation of Music evening with piano and vocal performances.

Registration for the Creative Arts Camp is Friday, June 12, 7-9 p.m. and Saturday, June 13, 1-4 p.m. at St. John's Anglican Church in Olds. Brochures on the courses are available at Olds Value Drug Store or Pharmasave, the Olds school libraries and the Olds and Didsbury Public Libraries. Registration forms are also available at the Olds school libraries.

Clubhouse renovations near completion

Like most sports, golf isn't just played on the course... it's replayed, stroke by stroke, in the clubhouse long after the last putt has been tapped into the hole.

Realizing this important social aspect of the sport, staff and members of the Olds Golf Club are actively revamping and renovating their old clubhouse.

Assistant Pro, Shane Campbell, figures the main portion of the renovating process should be complete in as little as two weeks. "The process is moving along quite well," Campbell says. "The clubhouse itself has already been relocated closer to where the Pro Shop is where it's been lifted up about five feet to increase the size of the basement."

"His" and "Hers" locker rooms--complete with new showers--will soon replace cramped shower and storage facilities of before.

All tolled, work on the renovation and relocation project should come to approximately $30,000... a figure that doesn't seem to worry the staff around the shop. "We are at $26,000 right now so we are sitting pretty good, actually. The fundraising has come primarily from the members themselves through promissory notes," Campbell explains.

Thanks to an innovative system, all contributions towards the project are being invested for two years after which time it would be redeemed. "It's more of a loan than having to give us the dollars straight out," Campbell says.

But the benefits to the project reach far beyond the investment members are making. "We are hoping the improvements we're making here will attract more golfers and even non-golfers to our course to try it out. The tourism potential in this is definitely a factor and we think it will be a strong selling feature in the long run."

CREMONA/WATER VALLEY NEWS

Cremona 4-H multi club news

By Lisa Roberts

The Cremona craft and interior design girls have had a busy year.

In January the girls were instructed by Nadine Hallett on making barrettes and earrings with friendly plastic.

In February we made embroidered earring holders.

In March we went on a field trip to Olds to visit craft stores and Carrol Smith who runs an interior design business from her home in Olds. She was very generous with us and gave us samples of wallpaper and drapery fabric and venetians so that we could do a mock-up of a bedroom design that we would like for ourselves.

In April we decorated bandanas with beads and Nadine and Lisa showed us how to do a table display for achievement day. We made candles for centrepieces at our year-end banquet when we met in May.

Our achievement day will be in Carstairs with the 4-H Show and Sale on Wednesday, June 10th. Our crafts will be judged that day and will be open for viewing about 1:00 p.m. in the curling rink. The public is invited to come and see what we have done this past year.

We are planning to enter some of our crafts in Showcase

'92 in Calgary on July 31 and August 1st. It is the celebration of 4-H in Alberta for 75 years and some of our members are planning to attend.

SUNDRE/WESTWARD HO NEWS

Major road improvement scheduled

Alberta Transportation and Utilities will call for tenders for a major road improvement project in Sundre, Minister of Transportation and Utilities Al "Boomer" Adair and Olds-Didsbury M.L.A. Roy Brassard announced recently.

The project involves the widening and resurfacing of Highway 27 through Sundre for 0.8 kms. from the Red Deer River east to the town limits.

"Scheduled for completion this summer, this project will make this section of Highway 27 safer through the Town of Sundre," said Adair.

"As a major link to recreational and natural resource activities west and north of Sundre Highway 27 is a very busy road (5,500 vehicles a day). Residents of Sundre as well as all users of this road will appreciate the improvements," said Brassard.

Peak performance

Sundre's Peak Theatre Players staged a brilliant rendition of Move Over Mrs. Markham last Friday at the Senior's Recreation Centre. The play, starring Colleen Bailey, Bill Lough and a number of other local talents, received a standing ovation from the sold out crowd. The next performance will be held next weekend.

Beef show celebrates 50th anniversary

By Janice Harrington

This year's Carstairs 4H Steer Show will have a special twist; it's also the celebration of the club's 50th anniversary.

Five clubs will be participating in this year's show, which will take place Wednesday, June 10 at the Carstairs Curling Rink.

Bert Pringle, one of the show organizers said the show will begin at 12:30 on Wednesday with 88 head waiting to be sold by the West Carstairs 4H Beef Club, the Cremona Multi 4H Club, the East Didsbury Beef and Light Horse Club, the South Cremona 4H Club and the West Didsbury 4H Club.

Weigh-in for the show begins at 7 a.m. along with a 50th anniversary celebration pancake breakfast. Other special anniversary events include a potluck supper for members, their families and buyers as well as a special presentation to the winner of the Grand Champions Steer Award. The winner will be presented with the original Challenge Cup trophy which now resides in Carstairs' Roulston Museum. Memorabilia booths will also be set up throughout the arena, outlining the 50 year history of the club. Other booths showcasing the work of the 2-year-old Cremona Craft and Interior Design Club will also be available for viewing.

Show action begins at 10 a.m. with the Class 1 Steer Classic. Class 2 will begin at 10:30 a.m. Grand Champion Class will start at 11 a.m., with presentations being awarded at 11:30. The Steer Classic will honor alumni members of the original Carstairs club which began back in 1942.

The show for current members of the clubs will begin at 12:30 p.m. with the sale starting after the potluck supper at 6:30 p.m.

Judges for this year show will be Bill Hartall of Calgary, Darrell Scheidt of Didsbury, Gary Anderson of Bowden and Karmen Hodgson of Bowden. This year's announcer is Rob Smith of Olds and the ringman will be Gordon Askow of Madden.

The sale will be conducted by Highwood Auction Services.

School band wins provincial award

The Senior Concert Band from Hugh Sutherland School in Carstairs has won the Molstad Plaque for the top band in provincial category (level C) at the Alberta Festival of Bands. Director Jeff Manley accepted the award on behalf of the band at the awards reception held at Red Deer College on Friday, May 29, 1992. The Presentation was made by the Alberta Music Festival Association.

Each year, bands from around the province perform at their local festivals in hopes of receiving a provincial recommendation and the right to represent their area at the Alberta Band Association's Festival of Bands held in Red Deer in late May. This year the 10 day festival featured over 175 bands from the province and Western Canada. Both the Junior and Senior Concert Bands from Hugh Sutherland were in attendance at the festival.

The Hugh Sutherland Bands were placed in a special provincial category and the adjudicators determined that the Senior Band was the top band in their level 'C' class.

This year's adjudicators included, Dr. Mallory Thompson and Leo S. Dodd from the United States, Dr. Glenn Price from the University of Calgary and Don Harris from the University of Saskatchewan.

Director Jeff Manley explained that it is a great way to end a very busy and musically productive year.

"This is the first time that a group from Carstairs has won an award at the provincial festival," said Manley, "and I'm very proud of the fine group of musicians we have in the band program."

TRAVEL & ENTERTAINMENT

Cooperative air/bus program announced

The new program recently announced by Air Canada and Greyhound Lines of Canada focuses on the intermodal travel option available to passengers through the partnership of the two companies.

The program lets Air Canada ticket purchasers from communities outside the metropolitan city of Vancouver in B.C., Edmonton and Calgary in Alberta and Toronto in Ontario, travel free by coach from the Greyhound terminal in the area where they live to the bus terminal in the airport city. A shuttle bus then takes them to airports in Vancouver, Edmonton, Calgary or Toronto. The process works in reverse on the return trip.

"Our partnership with Air Canada has proven to be a positive alliance not only for travellers who benefit by this intermodal transportation option, but also to both our companies," said Dick Huisman, Greyhound's president and chief-executive-officer. "Innovative programs and unique partnerships like this one are the key to growth in this industry, particularly during these economically challenging times. Rather than limiting services to customers, we are able to offer more choices that make travel easier while maximizing the consumer dollar."

Greyhound and Air Canada teamed up more than a year ago to offer two other programs—Ride & Fly and Freedom Flyer. Ride & Fly is available on Calgary/Vancouver and Edmonton/Vancouver routes and allows passengers the option of riding by coach one-way to their destination and returning by air. The Air Canada seniors program Freedom Flyer, offers a seven-day unlimited bus travel pass for $99, the Ride & Fly fares, as well as special fares on trips where passengers fly to one destination, travel by bus to another city/town, and fly back to the original point of departure.

"Through our alliance with Greyhound, we can reach the communities in outlying metro areas who cannot benefit from seat sales and similar offers," said Hollis Harris, Air Canada's Vice Chairman, President and CEO. "As Greyhound has a long-established relationship with smaller communities, we feel they provide us with a natural link to this market."

Greyhound Lines of Canada operates Canada's largest inter-city bus company, linking more than 1,100 towns and cities. It also operates Greyhound Courier Express, a courier and small package delivery service throughout Canada in addition to a charter fleet with service across North America.

Air Canada is a fully privatized international airline linking 62 Canadian communities through its Connector carriers, AirBC, Air Ontario, Air Nova, Air Alliance and NWT Air.

Poem contest announced

The National Library of Poetry has announced that $12,000 in prizes will be awarded this year to over 250 poets in the North American Open Poetry Contest. The deadline for the contest is June 30, 1992. The contest is open to everyone and entry is FREE.

Any poet, whether previously published or not, can be a winner. Every poem entered also has a chance to be published in a deluxe, hardbound anthology.

To enter, send ONE original poem, any subject and any style, to the National Library of Poetry, 11419 Cronridge Dr., P.O. Box 704-ZE, Owings Mills, MD, USA, 21117. The poem should be no more than 20 lines, and the poet's name and address should appear on the top of the page. Entries must be postmarked by June 30, 1992. A new contest opens July 1, 1992.

East Didsbury 4H news

By Elissa Sakariassen

Busy, busy, busy—it's that time again. The horse club just finished a successful weekend at 4-H on parade. Everyone had a good day both Saturday and Sunday and we all had lots of fun. A pat on the back also goes to Jonathon Dowell who represented the beef members with his heifer project and to our faithful and encouraging leaders, Bruce Dowell and Tracy Kasprick.

Moms and Dads, thanks so much for your support and encouragement. Yours is very special and without it we wouldn't have been there this weekend.

Now finish your light horse record books and catch up on that lost sleep all of you. Exams are coming up.

The big day for all you beef members is coming up. You've worked hard, now's your chance to show off that beast that everyone calls a steer. So go out there and do good, this is your time. Also your record books will have to be handed in by June 17th.

Some of the members and their families recently went trail riding at Mesa Butte and had a fabulous time. The weather was great, the food was great, and it was just plain old fun. Hope we can do it again sometime. Let's hit the trails buckeroos!!

Our year end banquet and Awards Night will be held June 25, 6:30 p.m. at the Mountain View Hall. It will be a potluck. Hope everyone can make it. Also, we will be painting the fence at the hall on June 20th.

Successful year for college rodeo club

The 1991/92 academic year has marked a period of success and change for the Olds College Rodeo Club.

The precedent setting move to recognize rodeo as a Collegiate sport brought the Club from under the umbrella of Animal Sciences to the College Athletic Department headed by Coordinator, Physical Education and Recreation, Al Qually.

This was further enhanced by the awarding of eight cash scholarships to outstanding male and female competitors.

Olds College's Rodeo Supervisor, Ted Storch, looks back at the past year with a strong sense of accomplishment. Storch helped see a mandatory insurance policy for all C.I.R.A. (Canadian Intercollegiate Rodeo Association) members initiated this year along with helping the Club pursue a sudden death Finals Rodeo in early May at Lethbridge.

Looking to the future, Storch has plans to see Olds host a two-day rodeo in October to accompany the already established rodeo held in conjunction with the College's Open House celebrations each spring.

Rodeo scholarships will again be presented to help minimize the number of cowboys and cowgirls travelling to the States to pursue an education. Scholarships have long been a factor in influencing those who wish to rodeo and obtain post-secondary education elsewhere.

High academic requirements will, of course, be maintained for all those who wish to participate in Olds College sports. "This academic responsibility makes for a successful graduate," says Qually.

This year, outstanding Saddle Bronc Rider Scott Bresee was chosen as "Athlete of the Year"—the first time any such award has been bestowed upon any rodeo competitor.

The face of College rodeo is changing," says Storch. "... and Olds College will continue to be a responsible leader in this regard."

College Green

Go For The Gold (without breaking the bank!)

The Villas on College Green offer top quality homes at amazingly affordable costs. And, really, isn't that what every home owner wants?

That's what people tell us. And that's why we've built the Villas on College Green. The Villas offer quality homes for maintenance-free life styles. Walking paths, lawn bowling, golf course, tennis, an indoor swimming pool, are just minutes away.

And there's a separate guest house for visitors, a 3,900 sq. ft. community activity building (complete with kitchen facilities, exercise room, cozy fireplace, pool table, and shuffle board), a separate workshop, and an independent on-site medical clinic.

There's even security monitoring while you're away, and RV parking for when you come home!

All this, and prices starting at $83,500.

Shouldn't you find out more about the Villas on College Green? We're located 45 minutes north of Calgary, on the pastoral grounds of the former Mountain View Bible College in Didsbury.

Review panel established

Federal Agriculture Minister Bill McKnight, Charlie Mayer, Minister of State for Grains and Oilseeds, and Pierre Blais, Minister of State for Agriculture, recently announced the establishment of a Regulatory Review Panel comprised of industry and government representatives, as part of an initiative announced in the federal budget in February.

The panel will provide advice to Agriculture Canada and the Ministers on the recommendations that will emerge from the current review of regulatory programs being undertaken by the department. The review is part of the federal government's continuing emphasis on streamlining government operations to promote competitiveness. It's designed to eliminate unnecessary regulations, re-define others and improve efficiency of enforcement.

The members of the panel were selected for their knowledge of both the agri-food sector and their experience with the impact of government regulations on industry. Dennis Laycraft, general manager of the Canadian Cattlemen's Association, will serve as the panel chair.

"A review of existing regulations will assist in fine-tuning government programs to ensure they provide a positive contribution to industry competitiveness and prosperity for all Canadians," said McKnight.

"But while seeking to enhance the competitive position of industry, the regulatory review will not sacrifice food quality or safety," he said.

"The panel will provide a valuable contribution to the vetting of the work that emerges from the grains and oilseeds consultation process," Mayer said.

"We are working on concert with industry and to respond to calls for a less bureaucratic system with less red tape," added Blais.

In the first phase of the review, Agriculture Canada will review regulations pertaining to the grains and oilseeds sector and regulations involving the production and inspection of food. Grains and Oilseeds Branch and the Food Production and Inspection Branch are currently setting up the processes for the review and will be contacting stakeholders shortly. The panel may also consult with industry experts in specific areas under review.

Regulations will be examined to ensure that government intervention remains justified, the regulations are cost effective and that there is effective compliance. The review is not a comprehensive analysis of the entire legislative framework but, where regulations are closely linked to an Act, an assessment of the relevant part of the legislation may be necessary.

Many of the department's remaining regulations -- including legislation that facilitates provincial marketing boards and the management of supply -- are already being reviewed as a result of the Agri-food Policy Review. The review of regulations related to the transportation of grain was the subject of the Transportation Talks, a consultation process conducted earlier this year.

Honey producer assistance announced

Agriculture Minister Bill McKnight has released details of the distribution of $2 million in assistance to Canadian honey producers.

The assistance is part of the Farm Support and Adjustment Measures (FSAM II) program announced by the Minister on Oct. 10, 1991.

Under the program, $1.5 million in direct income assistance will be provided to Canadian honey producers enrolled in the National Tripartite Stabilization Program (NTSP).

An additional $500,000 in developmental assistance has been allocated. Details on the use of these funds are being finalized in consultation with the Canadian Honey Council.

Producers currently enrolled in the NTSP for honey have been forwarded applications. Those participating in the program for the first time, and producers who have left the NTSP and wish to re-apply, must apply by June 1, 1992. Producers should contact their NTSP provincial administrations for further details. Applications will be provided by Agriculture Canada for producers in those provinces not participating in the NTSP for honey.

Obituaries

ROSS

John (Jack) C. Ross passed away peacefully after a courageous battle with cancer at the Foothills Hospital on Friday, May 29, 1992 at the age of 71 years.

He is survived by a loving family; his son Darcy of Olds and a daughter Angela Ross of Calgary, Alberta.

John is also survived by four brothers: Joe Ross of Olds; William & Wanda Ross of Olds; Andy & Alice Ross of Valleyview;

NEUFELD

Abraham A. Neufeld ("Abe") passed away during the early evening of Monday, June 1, 1992 at the Olds General Hospital, after a brief illness.

Abraham Neufeld was born on May 31, 1908 on a family homestead east of Didsbury. He was the seventh child of a family of nine children born to his parents Abraham C. and Elisabeth. As a youth he found great joy in the fellowship of the developing Berghal Mennonite Church where he was baptized and where he remained a lifelong supporter and member.

On July 23, 1929, Abe was married to Mary Klassen, a daughter of one of the many Russian Mennonite immigrant families that were hosted by his Edward & Joyce Ross of Okotoks; six sisters: Mable & Jack Wilford of Powell River, B.C.; Irene Peters of Vancouver, B.C.; Vi May of Calgary; Mary & Doug Schneidmiller of Calgary; Marge & Chester Bell of Calgary; Ethel & Roy Walden of Stavelly. Also survived by one aunt Jean Ross Meloney of Cape Breton Island. As well as numerous nieces and nephews.

He was predeceased by his family in the mid 1920s. Three daughters were born to them and two chosen sons were added.

They farmed in the Carstairs, Countess, and Didsbury districts from 1929 to 1970. Due to Mary's deteriorating health they moved to the town of Didsbury where he spent the subsequent years as her faithful caregiver until her death in 1986.

On May 19, 1990, he was united in marriage to Susan Neufeld (widow of Jacob W. Neufeld) in Didsbury where they made their home until his death.

Left to mourn his passing are his daughters: Leona and husband Waldemar Pawlik of Vancouver, B.C.; Margaret and husband Isaac Froese of Winnipeg, MB; Hilda and husband wife Laura May, June 25, 1990. His father and mother, William and Agnes Ross and two brothers, Lloyd and Don Ross.

John was an active farmer for many years in the community of Olds. Along with farming he had a desirable interest in carpentry which through the years employed him as an independent contractor and building inspector for the towns of Olds, Didsbury, Carstairs, Bowden and Sundre.

He will be sadly missed by all who knew him.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday, June 3, 1992, from the Mountain View Funeral Chapel, Olds. Active pallbearers were: John Scruten, Harvey Doering, Doug Schneidmiller, Roy Walden, Ron May and Gene Schneidmiller.

Interment followed at the Olds Cemetery.

family, but also by his many friends and associates in the entire Didsbury area.

Funeral services were held Friday, June 5, 1992 from the Berghal Mennonite Church in Didsbury, with Rev. Norman Bergen officiating.

Active pallbearers were: Bernhard Pawlik, Philip Froese, Karl Rempel, Tony Casselman, Ryan Neufeld and Menno Neufeld.

Five-O news

The club held another successful dinner June 3rd. The draw for the hanging basket was won by Sandy Brandu and Ele From was the winner of the quilt. Congratulations go out to Ev Sylverthorne who recently held a 29 hand in cribbage. The floor curling teams are busily practicing for the zone playoffs. Best of luck to all of you.

La Leche League news

Allergy occurrence is less among breastfed infants. . . .

Eczema was less common and milder in babies who were breastfed (22%) and whose mothers were on a restricted diet (48%). In infants fed casein hydrolysate, soy milk or cow's milk, 21%, 63%, and 70% respectively, developed atopic eczema.

Babies are to love. The old term "tender loving care" still describes best what a baby needs most. The topic for the June 12, 1992 meeting of the Carstairs La Leche League is "Baby Arrives, The Family and The Breastfed

Dressing Up Your Salad

To many Canadians, salads are the original "Health food": a source of fibre, vitamins and minerals and virtually no fat. In spring and early summer, it's easy to imagine meals built around large bowls of salad full of the freshest spring vegetables. But appearances can be deceiving.

Regular salad dressings have 1 to 3 teaspoons of fat per tablespoon. An otherwise healthy lower fat meal can be pushed over the edge with generous use of salad dressings. If you have a heavy hand with salad dressings, you may want to consider lower fat ways to dress salads.

1) Try commercial low calorie salad dressings--most dressings are lower in calories because they have less oil. Check the "Nutrition Labelling"--a low calorie and low fat dressing will have 3 grams (about 1/2 teaspoon) or less of fat per serving.

2) Easy-to-make homemade salad dressings can have less fat and salt than commercial versions. Buttermilk or yogurt are healthy bases for "creamy" salad dressings. For oil and vinegar dressings, combine equal parts oil and vinegar. Try one of the flavored vinegars like red wine, tarragon or raspberry vinegar.

3) Recipes for low fat salad dressings may be found in Eat Well - Live Well or the Light-hearted Cookbooks by Anne Lindsay.

4) Crunchy toppings can add enjoyable flavour and textures. A sprinkling of croutons, walnuts, pecans, or toasted almonds add only small amounts of fat. Moderation is the key here. For crunch without the fat, add broccoli or cauliflower florets.

Salads are part of a healthy diet, have some fun by dressing your salad the low fat way.

North Lone Pine W.I. news

By Christine Milne

Evelyn Clarke hosted the May 25th meeting, with seven members attending. Roll call was "My mother's favorite saying," and these brought back memories of each special lady.

Plans were finalized for our participation in the Provincial Conference, June 9-11. Evelyn Clarke and Chris Milne hope to attend. This is the first time A.W.I. and Women of Uniform hold a joint conference. It should prove interesting. A.W.I. is proposing 12 by-laws to be voted on.

The financial crunch is affecting the A.W.I. and our provincial office. We were asked to choose priorities as government funding is being reduced. One area feeling the pinch is in handicraft judging, as W.I., fairs, etc. will have to pick up the tab for judging done at handicraft exhibits.

We heard reports on the MVHCC Appreciation Tea, where Helen Newton accepted a scroll on our behalf, and on the Florence Nightingale Tea, both of which were successful.

Our branch also congratulates fellow member Hazel Milne on receiving the Appreciation Award for volunteering, recently.

We are planning a bake sale on June 19.

Contests were won by Chris Milne and Helen Newton.

At the library

"Aspects of Reality," a 1992 travelling art exhibition, curated by the Muttart Art Gallery of Calgary, will be available for viewing at the Didsbury Municipal Library from June 5th to June 28th, 1992. Featured in this exhibition are three Alberta artists: Barbara Amos, Poul Neilsen and Colleen Shephstone.

Too often, contemporary art is labelled as either realistic or abstract, when in fact, almost all art includes aspects of both realism and abstraction. Together, the three artists in this exhibition exploit both realistic and abstract notions in examining the realities created by man, mind and nature.

With each look at the art in "Aspects of Reality," one can see more of themselves and the many different realities of our existence.

"Aspects of Reality" is one of 10 travelling exhibitions being circulated by the Muttart and is solely funded by The Alberta Foundation For The Arts.

Free catalogues are available upon request.

Didsbury Library news

Are you planning to Travel Canada this summer? The Didsbury Town Library is featuring a selection of books and guides on the ins and outs of Canadian travel. You can choose from books giving campground locations and information or picnic spots.

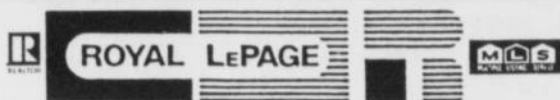

If you plan to sight-see, the library has several books illustrating the more touristy attractions as well as some little known ones.

If you are leaving your car at home and discovering the great white north by bicycle, train, horse, boat or by foot, you may want to borrow a guide listing the most scenic routes and trails as well as Bed and Breakfast accommodations.

Now, you're set to go—the cooler is packed and the kids are all piled in the car ready with the most important questions of all—How long before we get there? Don't worry, the library also has a selection of car travel games and ideas!

Didsbury volunteers honored

Mountain View Health Care Center honored its Volunteers last Wednesday evening at an Awards Tea. Present were volunteers, their parents, members from the board, nursing and administration.

The girls were individually recognized with pins and certificates. Second year girls received a 100 hour bar.

This year a proficiency award was given to the outstanding Volunteer as nominated by nursing staff. Tanya Gingrich proudly accepted this award.

The Volunteers work diligently for nine months of the year to help where needed in the comfort of patients and residents. Their friendliness, caring manner and devotion is greatly appreciated.

Appreciation given

The Volunteers from the Mountain View Health Care Centre were honored at a tea by the Auxiliary Volunteers. Right: Tanya Gingrich receives the Proficiency Award from Hazel Milne.

Doctor of Veterinary Medicine

Gordon Douglas Krebs received a Doctor of Veterinary Medicine with distinction at the convocation held in Saskatoon on May 19th, 1992. Gord received three of the top 25 awards offered by the faculty. Included in these awards are the Ayerst 1st General Proficiency Award given to the outstanding fourth year student, the Ayerst Award for Highest Aptitude in Bovine Clinical Medicine and the J. Gordon Anderson Award in Clinical Medicine.

Raised on the farm at Didsbury, Gord is the son of Barbara and Don Krebs. He graduated from the Didsbury High School and completed his Pre-Veterinary Medicine requirements at the University of Alberta.

Gord, his wife Denise (Rowe) and daughter Carlee are currently making their home in Sundre where he is practicing with the Pioneer Veterinary Services.

Regional population increases

The first release of information from 1991 federal census was received in April. It showed continued population increases in the majority of municipalities in the Red Deer region. As of June 1, 1991, the regional population was 162,630. The region as a whole grew more slowly (5.9%) than the province's, 7.6%.

Within the region, a 20 year trend in population distribution has been noted. The central area of the region has increased its share of the region's population while the share has decreased in the east and remained constant in the west. The central area is represented by the boundaries of the Counties of Lacombe, Red Deer and Mountain View, the east by the Counties of Stettler and Paintearth, and the west by the Municipal District of Clearwater.

In 1966, the majority of the region's population became urban for the first time. By 1986, 68% were living in urban centres. This remained unchanged in 1991.

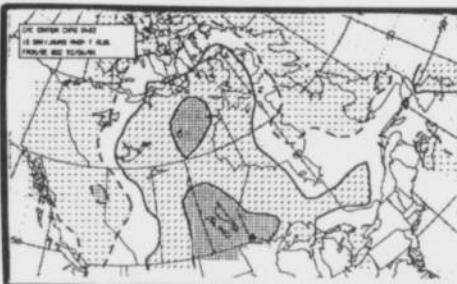

The census results also provided information on household size and population density. The average number of people per dwelling in the region is the same as that of the province as a whole 2.8. In 1981, the average was 3.0. Regarding population density, the central area of the region showed a significant increase, while it increased to a lesser extent in the west and declined in the east.

Population projections, which were last prepared for each of the municipalities in the region in 1989, were compared to actual populations in 1991. Over 30% of the actual populations were within the high and low ranges of the projections. The projections will be reconsidered in the near future.

Southwest Didsbury news

By Bessie Eckstrand

Fred & Alma Befus had a very successful farm sale on May 25th. It was hard to say goodbye to so many things they had used for many years. They started farming there in 1941 (Falkmann parental home) and have lived there ever since except for a few winters spent in Phoenix, Arizona, USA. They have moved to the Rocky View Lodge in Crossfield where daughter Marilyn is manager. So they feel quite at home. Area will miss you very much Fred & Alma, but we wish you good health and happiness in your new surroundings.

The four acre farmstead acreage was purchased by Vaughn & Carol Christenson and 2 boys, Ryan and Kyle of Didsbury. They will be moving in soon. Vaughn is a RCMP officer and we welcome you to the area. We are all looking forward to getting acquainted.

Barry & Marie Barkley of Carstairs purchased the rest of the Befus quarter section and plans are progressing.

Area would also like to welcome Carol Krammer and family consisting of dog "Tara" and two cats "Gibby and Zoe," who have recently moved to the Dorothy & Ezra Dippel farm home. Carol commutes to Calgary on a changing shift. We hope you and your family will be happy in this friendly neighborhood.

Dates to note:

Knox U.C.W. annual picnic and 30th year celebration will be held in the Christian Education Room, June 23rd at 11:30 a.m. with a service first. Meat will be provided, bring either salad or dessert. ALL former presidents are invited, charter members and thrift shop volunteers.

Knox Church annual service and picnic will be held with service at Westcott Church and picnic at Westcott Hall. Come and bring a friend.

On T.V. a few days ago viewed an albino Robin, never saw one before and also reports of a squirrel or squirrels running around Didsbury. A first, I think.

Crops are coming up nicely and with this nice rain, hopes are for a bounteous crop this fall. Gardens are coming up, one lady reported she had radishes already. Bedding plants are being planted and reports are some have planted for the third time. It's been quite a year--gets so very hot and then it's cold--wonder what's in store for the rest of the year?

Jackson W.I. news

Our May meeting was postponed until June 2 but never-the-less, 14 members were present at Joan Foat's home. Joan chose "You are my Sunshine" as our opening song and then we repeated the Mary Stewart Collect.

The roll-call was our favorite flower. The rose won hands down with pansies, lilacs, glads and sweet peas winning a close second.

The president, Joan Foat, welcomed the members and one guest, Lillian Olson, from Ottawa. Lita Reid read the minutes and they were adopted as read. Marie Olson gave her treasurer's report which had a satisfactory bank balance. Our guest speaker was unable to come due to family problems.

The meeting was turned over to Kay Unger who gave us details of our part on July 1st for Cremona days. The doors of the Gold & Silver Club will open at 8 a.m. on July 1st to register all entries to the handicraft competition. The duty rosters were filled out and the judges and helpers were appointed from our membership. The judging is from 9:30 to 12:30 and then the doors will be open to the general public to view the entries. The display will continue to 4 o'clock. Our president will award the cash prizes at 3 p.m.

All members are requested to bring 1 dozen or 2 dozen or an ice cream bucket of cookies on June 17. They are to be donated to the Cancer Clinic and Holly Hallett will see that they reach their destination.

The A.W.I. conference will be on the 9th, 10th and 11th of June. The handicraft will be on display and the hours of viewing are listed in another portion of the paper. Joan Foat, Kay Unger and Noreen Olson will be our delegates.

There is a dilemma over the frequency of our Conferences both at the District Level and the Provincial level as the province has or will cut our funding. Read about the choices we have before us, so we can help the executive decide on the right course.

Marie Olson made the motion; Elma Bird seconded it, that we retain the name "Home & Country" for our newsletter. Motion passed.

Martha Felker suggested we should update our constitution. Joan Foat is going to obtain the old one--drawn up in 1953--to see what changes are necessary to modernize it.

Elma Bird and Judy Bellamy served a lovely lunch.

Our next meeting will be at Marie Botenburg's home on June 17. Remember your cookie contribution.
